With Great Thanks from Malawi!

I am witnessing a challenging project develop with leaders in the capital city as a church boundary wall built with compacted brick falls down, section by section, after much rain. Should we agree to save this falling wall, rebuild the wall, or save the compacted bricks and use it to build a school, soccer training centre with a soccer field, and develop a public, friendly conference multi-purpose ministry outreach centre?

The falling brick wall

A pastor/conference leader lives on the property, and for security reasons, the house most definitely needs a wall around it, so it will need re-walling. Then, the remaining boundary line will be wire fencing. Compacted bricks that have been exposed to much rain will be recovered and used for indoor walling in the school. Pray with us as this reconstruction takes place "to enlarge our camp" and embrace an opportunity to draw the community in through a schooling program and Soccer Training Outreach Centre. These are the two greatest community needs for the young generation and future leaders in Lilongwe, Malawi, and we can play a key role to embrace the youth through these programs. Pray as this project develops!

On this same property, Lee Grady, an ordained minister with the IPHC, came and presented a Key Leadership Training session and conference to "STOP ABUSE." More than 40 denomination key leaders, social group leaders, and business groups came. The theme for the conference was Fearless Women, Better Malawi! Translation of his book, "Fearless Daughters of the Bible" is in process, and will be used as a tool.

The churches' focus this year is to develop a support group to counsel the abused, help meet their needs, and to uplift them in prayer. Then, to be prepared for Lee Grady arriving this November to visit the Northern part of Malawi and mobilize key leaders there to stop abuse. Follow up meetings are scheduled with these church support groups to discuss readiness to manage a safe centre for the abused. Keep this ministry and development as a corporate effort in prayer, as all churches in Malawi work together to serve the abused. Thank God with me for Lee Grady and his ministry impacting Malawi Churches. Visit Lee Grady's website: www.themordeicaiproject.com

Guthrie Bible Training Centre took in a record enrollment of students. Thank you, Case family, for helping us to financially run this February and June term. Thanks, also, for your generous sponsorship of 10 students in the June term. For next term, we need to add 15 new beds and bedding to embrace the capacity. We thank God for your efforts in meeting this need! We need to enlarge our camp for sure. The school's capacity is 25 maximum and now 35+ students are enrolled. We thank God for the eagerness of the students and for the ministry workers who will go forth with a commitment to build God's Kingdom! Help us embrace them by supporting the school monthly!

Pray for the development of the school and mostly the resources needed this year. We also hope to hear from a building contractor to come and serve on the field to oversee the building projects! Do you know of anyone ready to serve?

Excited children's workers and youth attended training this past December at Guthrie Bible Training Centre. One attended all four years of courses and received his certificate as a Children's Worker. Youth were eager to answer questions and enjoyed picking a gift suitable for them from the Christmas tree. Thank you to all who contributed to the needs of the youth. Let me know if you want to participate for this coming December. Also, pray for Bree McBride, she and her Dad, a pastor from Texas, want to go on a mission trip with Rachel Burns Stafford to Malawi during December 2014.

Time may run out for some to respond, but to declare the Word of God is our mission, and the Word will accomplish its purposes. I thank God for you and the opportunity you provide for people to hear.

This is the year of Jubilee!

Our eyes will witness what was meant for evil will turn for good! We will see a Great Harvest come to Christ as His shaking of the earth and its people will leave many desperate, searching for God, knowing that no longer can they deny His great power or deny His calling. The question is, are we ready and can we re-focus to embrace this searching group?

FURLOUGH TIME!

I will be in Oklahoma at the WMM Office visiting on the 25th of June 2014. Then, I will arrive in North Carolina the first week of July until the end of September.
